The library is dimly lit with lamps.

GILES is sitting at the counter reading an old dusty occult book.

WILLOW excitedly rushes through a pile of books in a dark corner of the room on the second floor.

There is a BUMP behind Willow. She looks to see...

Nothing. The BUMP happens again but in front of her. Se turns to see...

SPIKE leaping at her. He smothers her mouth and pins her to the floor.

Giles puts his book down and walks to the table.

He absently looks around, is Willow still here? He looks at his watch and realises he has to go. He rushes out.

Spike pulls Willow up and drags her against a wall.

SPIKE
Time for some fun.

Willow struggles but is not able to fight him off.

SPIKE
I wonder if anyone would notice
if you were bitten.

Willow continues to fight a loosing battle for freedom.

Spike turns her round and prepares her for his dinner.

Just as he's about bite down, a rope acting like a snake grabs his hands, pulls him back and flings him down to the table.

Spike sees GILES and BUFFY stood over him. Buffy lights a stick and holds it close to him to keep him in line.

Willow rushes down to the table, relived and happy with herself.
